Welcome,

Here at Scrappindipity, we like to focus our workshops on you!

That means we encourage you to explore your own creativity, to bring your own unique style into your creations and to have fun in a friendly relaxed atmosphere.

Our workshops are limited to a maximum number of 6 participants, as we like to offer a personalised creative experience. Therefore, should you wish to attend a workshop with a group of friends, please make sure you are all booking together to avoid disappointment.

Our workshops will give you the opportunity to learn something new, to make something special and to play with different products and tools. Most importantly—it's the opportunity for YOU to be creative!

Most of our workshops include the basic materials needed to complete the project, however some will require additional items.

Please familiarize yourself with the workshop requirements prior to booking.

As well as workshops, we are holding regular ATC (artist trading cards)

Technique & Social Time — on each Wednesday afternoon for 3 hours from 1-00pm to 4.00pm at a cost of only $20.

Other social sessions will be put into place as time goes along.

We find, that we often need a commitment to completing unfinished projects and our “Social Times” are perfect for that.

At the social times you have access to our workshop equipment. There is also absolutely no pressure to make anything - if you want to be here to socialize and learn new techniques, see the demonstrations etc, then that's fine with us too:)

SWAPS: We also hold regular monthly ATC swaps both in-store, and through our FLICKR group you can join and visit for daily inspiration. On our Wednesday ATC days we can make cards for these themed swaps.
